Expectations and Accountability for Managing Fall Hazards in Multiple Employer Construction Sites

Falls continue to be the leading cause of serious injuries and death on construction sites. Controlling contractors exert the most influence on multiemployer jobsites and set a general tone for work. This is often referred to as a “culture of safety.” The OSHA Susan Harwood sponsored fall prevention training will address:

1. Fall protection as a general condition on construction worksites
2. Examples of multi-employer roles & responsibilities
3. Fall protection training requirements

Topics Covered:

- Understand Key Terms
  - The Exposed Employer
  - The Creating Employer
  - The Correcting Employer
  - The Controlling Employer
- Fall Hazards
  - Fall to lower level
  - Fall to same level
  - Struck by falling object
- Understanding Gravity
- Hazards from inadvertently removing fall protection
- Working in controlled access zones
- Controlling hazards of shafts (HVACS, elevator shafts, stairwells, and coring)
- Ladders, last choice.
